MAYOR BECKER HIT IN DEBATE

Assemblyman Grassie Of Milwaukee, Takes A
Dig At Milwaukee's Chief Executive.

NO CHANGE IN SENATORIAL VOTES

Social Democrats Gain A Victory By Passage Of Bill By Assembly--Ballot Law Is To Be Killed In Lower House.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., April 29.—Aside from changes in the figure resulting from the legislature today in the senate from the absences at the joint ballot trial contest the result was the same as that of Friday. The republican caucus resumes tonight, but there are no promises of any changes. If any break in the deadlock comes this week it will hardly be before Thursday.

Crack at Becker

The assembly worked through a short calendar, but the senate had no session. Assemblyman Grassie proposes in an amendment to include Milwaukee in a bill to eliminate partisan politics from the spring and municipal elections, declaring when introducing his amendment, that "We have no party politics in Milwaukee now. Rose was not elected as a democrat nor Becker as a republican."

Dunn Ballot Law

Dunn pocket ballot bill which passed the senate was reported for killing by the assembly elections committee. The social democrats won a victory by getting through the assembly bill to authorize the issuance of the common council after the people had voted for the bonds. The social democrats think this will enable Milwaukee to build a municipal lighting system.

There was another heavy rainfall this morning which caused the river to rise higher, endangering property in the lowlands. An area covering several square miles has been flooded, causing thousands of dollars' worth of damage to railway and farm property. The railway traffic has been paralyzed. The Canadian river is rising rapidly and people in the lowlands are moving out.

ANOTHER UNWRITTEN LAW CASE DRAWS ATTENTION

Mother And Brother Of Wronged Girl Must Stand Trial For Murder Of Betrayed.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Baltimore, Md., April 29.—The spring term of the circuit court to convene next week in Charles county, this state, will be called upon to try a case in which the defense in all probability will plead the "unwritten law." The case already has attracted widespread attention and comment. It is that of Mrs. Mollie Bowie and her son, Henry Bowie, who are charged with having shot to death Hubert Posey last January.

Hubert Posey, the victim of the tragedy, lived with his parents near Hilltop, and much of his time was spent at the home of Mrs. Mollie Bowie, near Ironsides, and it is said that Miss Priscilla Bowie, or "Sis" Bowie, as she was known, was the attraction. It is said also that there was an intimate relationship existing between the young man and his sweetheart. When it became apparent that the young woman had been wronged, Posey was called upon to right the wrong for which he was alleged to have been responsible, and it is said made a promise of marriage. The time for the marriage was set, the wedding feast prepared, and other arrangements made. At the appointed time the minister was on hand to tie the knot, but Posey failed to appear.

A double marriage was to have been performed that night, but the failure of Posey to appear resulted in the minister having to perform but one ceremony. "Sis" Bowie was disappointed and disheartened. When the time came and she realized that her alleged betrayer had no idea of mar-

Louis Bohmrich, who was formerly a democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin and has been special district attorney for about one month, today resigned. He says that the duties of his private practice interfered too much with the duties of the district attorney's office.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Tuesday; colder east tonight.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY.

The following paragraph from Henry Clew's last financial letter is significant of present conditions, and emphasizes the fact that a great volume of business does not always mean proportionate profits.

"Railroad gross earnings in February of 94 railroads amounted to $124,000,000, an increase over last year of $8,800,000. During the same period operating expenses increased nearly $10,500,000, leaving net earnings $1,600,000 less than in February of last year. This is a striking example of the effect of recent tendencies in general business—that of increased expenses.

"It shows that in spite of much larger gross earnings, the increase in expenses wiped out all this gain and left instead a decrease. Another indication which cannot be overlooked is that furnished by clearing house returns. For the last three weeks these have shown a steady decline compared with last year.

"The heaviest shrinkage was, of course, in New York, where speculation was at a minimum, but it is to be noted that a number of leading cities in the east and also in the west are showing smaller returns than a year ago.

"When it costs the railroads ten and a half million dollars to increase their receipts nine million dollars, it don't require a very large amount of brains to determine that the companies are not holding their own in this era of great prosperity.

"It is a safe proposition to assume that the railroads are not the only industry suffering from the same experience, and so it is easy to understand why retrenchment is being discussed today, more than expansion. This discussion is going on all along the line and gradually, but very persistently, the brakes are being applied. The country does not feel its effects as yet, but it will before the year closes.

"Manufactures have submitted to all sorts of advances for material, and almost every demand from the labor world has been met because there was no alternative, but when balance sheets show a steady shrinkage these conditions cannot long continue.

"When George Gould sailed for Europe the other day, he said to a reporter, 'there is no use in railroads attempting to raise any money this year for betterment and extensions.' This simple statement means vastly more than appears on the surface.

"Mr. Gould is at the head of the great Gould railway system. He invests his money freely in bankrupt properties and extensions, where other capitalists are too timid to enter, simply because of his sublime faith in the future.

"In carrying out his far-reaching plans he gives employment to an army of workmen, but his plans, like many similar plans, are blocked this year, and the interests of many employees will suffer.

"The railroads of the country needed regulating for their own good as well as for the good of the public, but isn't it just possible that there are too many regulators?

"There are two topics which command universal interest and attention. One is the weather—the other, the railroads. Every last man of us is a weather critic. We run a little weather bureau of our own, and the knowledge and wisdom displayed would put to blush anything but omniscience.

"In these latter days we are neglecting the weather, leaving the entire responsibility to God and Reverend Dr. Hicks; but we are a busy people, and our great surplus energy and skill is now devoted to the railroad business. We are past masters in the art and men like Gould, Hill and Morgan are obliged to take to the woods. For the best good of all concerned, wouldn't it be just as well to again turn our attention to the weather, and give the railroads a rest.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

If there is any good reason why the legislature should not agree on some good man to succeed Senator Spooner, the people of the state are waiting to be advised. The deadlock is fast becoming a farce.

While the supporters of Lenroot and Stephenson are perhaps committed beyond recall, they do not constitute a majority, and there is no reason why the balance of power should not get together without further delay, and settle the question.

If the candidates interested can not agree among themselves, to end the contest, drop the entire bunch and unite on some good man from the outside.

It is not a matter of vital importance whether either Cooper, Esch or Hatton win out. The people recognize no obligation to this little coterie, and there are plenty of men in the state as well or better qualified for the high office.

The man who occupies the place so long held by Senator Spooner, will be more or less of a cipher for some time to come. The man selected now should be chosen with reference to the future. If he promises to make good, the people will not hesitate to endorse him two years later, and the next legislature will be saved from annoyance and responsibility.

The long, drawn-out fight in the ranks of the republican party is ended. The lion swallowed the lamb and the lamb has stopped kicking. The only interest expressed in the next senator is that he must be a republican—possessing ability to rank with the men with whom he is to associate.

The terms 'stalwart' and 'half-breed' are no longer significant because the former was lost in the shuffle, but republicanism stands and will continue to control the politics of the state.

The present legislature is republican by large majority, and the members owe it to their constituency to settle the senatorial contest, and that speedily.

THE SUNDAY ORDINANCES.

All law respecting citizens will endorse the action of Mayor Heddles in his effort to enforce law. And it will not be out of character to suggest that when you meet him you extend a hand of congratulation with assurance of moral support.

It requires some moral courage, and some backbone, for a newly-elected mayor to assert himself on questions of this kind, and while all good people say in their hearts, "he is right," there are a lot of timid souls who doubt the expediency, and who, by silence and indifference, assent to wrong doing.

There are 2800 tax-payers among the voters of Janesville; a record which can not be duplicated by any city of similar size in the west.

Those men are interested in the welfare of the city. They enjoy the protection which the laws of the land provide, and they believe in the enforcement of law.

Their votes are responsible for the election of one of their own number to the office of mayor, and they expect him to enforce the city ordinances without fear or favor.

In doing this, no hardship will result. The saloon man who enters into a contract with the city, expects to keep the contract, and when he refuses to do it he has no right to remain in business, and he has no cause for complaint if the contract is annulled.

There was pending in the assembly last week, two amendments to the license law. One of them provided that in case of violation a fine should be imposed, but the license should not be disturbed. The other read that after the fine the license may be revoked. The present law says "it shall be."

A delegation of brewers and law-respecting saloon men appeared before the committee, and argued in defense of the law as it now stands. They said they recognized its justice, and proposed to be law-abiding citizens. The amendments were lost.

This same sentiment was expressed by Mr. Hare, the man who organized the Anti-Saloon league in Wisconsin. He was invited to meet the younger generation of brewers not long ago. They said to him: "We recognize the growing sentiment in favor of law enforcement, and we want you to know that we are with you."

This was a substantial endorsement from a quarter least expected, but it expresses a popular sentiment among the better element of men engaged in the business.

The man who has an unregulated appetite, as the result of fixed habits, can stock up on Saturday for Sunday the same as his wife does on groceries.

If there were the only men effected the violation of Sunday ordinances would not be so bad, but the young men and boys, who reel through the streets, do not drink in response to appetite or habit. They are victims of the social glass and are entitled to every protection that the law affords. If the laws are unjust, modify them, but so long as they are laws, enforce them. This expresses popular sentiment today, not only in Janesville, but in all parts of the country. The mayor has made no mistake in the policy adopted.

The Federation of Trade Councils at Green Bay has forwarded to President Roosevelt, resolutions of endorsement for his recent action in the Moyer-Haywood controversy. That is the right attitude for organized labor to assume. The people respect law and order, and have no time for lawlessness or its sympathizers.

The democratic contingency in the legislature, may decide to unite on some republican candidate for the senate, as there is no hope of electing one of their own men. This would be a wise thing to do, providing the man selected is chosen for fitness and ability.

The labor unions of New York City have started out to raise half a million dollars for the acquittal of Moyer and Haywood, the condemned miners. That has the appearance of attempting to forestall justice.

PRESS COMMENT.

Mild Methods of Today.
Monroe Journal: "Liar" used to mean a fight or a foot race. Nowadays it seems to mean only, "You're another."

Where Delmas Balked.
St. Louis Globe Democrat: Lawyer Delmas has retired from the Thaw case. He was willing to represent the defendant in court, but objected to hiring out as his companion in jail.

As Odd As Inevitable.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Odd, isn't it, that the most popular man in the United States is the man whom some people representing the most diverse sentiments are pitching into?

That Will Be Very Mean.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Congressmen Cooper is receiving votes in the senatorial race which are expected to leave him when he needs them most. He has become obnoxious to the stalwarts and the half dozen stalwart votes he is receiving are apt to leave him just when they might do him some good.

Hiding His Light, Etc.

Green Bay Gazette: An unknown man in Appleton has subscribed $10,000, one-half of his worldly wealth, toward the $50,000 which Lawrence university is raising to secure a $50,000 appropriation. In addition it is announced that the donor refused to give his name. Possibly from the thought that he had given all he could afford at this time.

Some Will Surely Sneer.

Oshkosh Northwestern: According to a Marinette dispatch Mr. Stephenson has just granted a ten per cent increase of pay to about two hundred men employed by his lumber company, although the men had asked for no increase and were expecting none. And now the enemies of Uncle Ike will be sure to sneer, and say it was done for political effect.

Bob, The Ready Promiser.

Madison Journal: Senator La Follette, in a lecture at Moscow, Idaho, on Monday, told his audience he would return to Idaho if they wished it, and without pay, assist the people to fight the railroads. There is an old man at the Park Hotel in this city at the present time making the fight of his life, who has been very generous to La Follette, and who is wondering why "Bob" doesn't come here and keep his promise to fight for him. The old man is learning to his sorrow that "Bob's" fighting qualities equal his promising qualities only when the fight brings advantage to himself.

New Crusade in Stoughton.

Stoughton Hub: Ladies who wear negligee plumes or other feathered adornments would do well to ascertain whether such practices are contrary to law. Some states forbid the killing of birds or the use of plumage in the manner suggested. One of these states is Louisiana, and a sign judge down that way has just imposed a sentence of a $50 fine or sixty days imprisonment for selling plumes. Of course, the southern judge was too gallant to make a first example of ladies who bought the feathers, but he warns them that the practice is illegal. And doubtless the tender-hearted portion of humanity will now be prompt to suppress a custom which has been judicially pronounced inhumane.

The Sling-Shot Nuisance.

Milwaukee Sentinel: David was a great man, and we are reliably informed in the scriptures that he got his start in life by a certain successful enterprise, in which a sling-shot figured. This example, however, is hardly one for emulation by the youth of this effete and degenerate day. There are no giants or lions about for them to use when target practice is desired, and any destruction of animate nature that is really necessary can be attended to by the police. The sling-shot nuisance is a serious annoyance and contains many real elements of danger, both to persons and property. The use of this weapon should be regulated sternly both by parents and police officers. If this is done, one of the things which militates against unreserved enjoyment of the first balmy days of spring will have been removed.

ORGANIZATION FOR STATE AUTO PEOPLE

Perfected in Milwaukee Last Week
—Frank Blodgett Represented
Janesville.

The Wisconsin State Automobile association, an organization destined to become a large factor in the automobile world of the state, was organized Friday evening at a meeting held at the Milwaukee Automobile club rooms in the St. Charles hotel. Articles of incorporation were signed up and forwarded to Madison, Friday night. The following is the list of incorporators: O. Josslyn and L. H. Blodgett of Oshkosh; Frank H. Blodgett of Janesville; Emil Schanzlein, C. C. Scholtka, Faustina Prinz, Joseph C. Baird, M. C. Moore, J. E. Farber, Phil A. Grau, Frank P. Wilbur and Sheldon J. Glass of the Milwaukee Automobile club.

The automobile clubs of Oshkosh, Janesville, Beloit and Fond du Lac were represented by delegates, and assurances have been given that the automobile clubs of Burlington, Fort Atkinson, Wausau, Portage, Racine, Kenosha and La Crosse will join.

The objects and purposes of this new state association are set forth in its articles, as follows:

(a) To promote and maintain a social organization composed of persons owning and interested in the use of motor vehicles, and to secure a closer union and co-operation of automobilists.

(b) To co-operate in securing just national and state legislation, properly regulating the use of automobiles and other vehicles upon all highways in a manner most conducive to the public welfare.

(c) To protect, maintain and defend the lawful rights of owners and users of motor vehicles against infringement in any form and against unjust legislation.

(d) To promote intelligent use of motor vehicles and inculcate a proper respect and observance of the laws of the road by all users thereof.

(e) To promote and encourage the construction and maintenance of good roads and the improvement of public highways generally.

(f) To maintain the rights and privileges of all persons who own or are interested in motor vehicles through some national association with which this organization shall be affiliated. The new organization will have a directorate of fifteen members, and the probable list of directors who will likely be selected at the meeting on May 16th, will include the following: Neal Brown of Wausau; C. O. Josslyn of Oshkosh; F. H. Blodgett of Janesville, Dr. L. F. Bennett of Beloit, W. G. Menzel of Fond du Lac, Judge W. S. Stroud of Portage, E. Roy McCanna of Burlington, Rich T. Robinson of Racine, C. A. Harper of Madison, A. R. Hoar of Ft. Atkinson, Chas. T. Jeffery of Kenosha, F. P. Hixon of La Crosse.

Three directors from the Milwaukee club will be selected, and among the possibilities are James T. Dought, M. C. Moore, Chris. Scholtka, Phil A. Grau, Frank P. Wilbur and Sheldon J. Glass.

The officers will be selected from among the directors, and it is probable that either Neal Brown of Wausau, or C. O. Josslyn of Oshkosh, will be selected president, while it is generally conceded that James T. Dought of Milwaukee, will be offered the position of secretary.

"The state association," at its meeting Friday night, placed itself squarely on record as opposed to reckless and inconsiderate driving of automobiles by the adoption of the following resolutions:

"WHEREAS the Wisconsin legislature of 1907 has in its wisdom declared itself against any changes in the present automobile law, deeming the same, if enforced and properly observed, amply sufficient to protect the rights of all users of the highways, and by reason of this action in rejecting certain proposed drastic legislation, the legislature has placed Wisconsin in a position of honor, and under a personal obligation to see that the automobile laws are strictly observed; in spirit as well as in letter, and that every automobile is operated with due care, at all times, showing every consideration to other users of the highway and particularly exercising extreme caution when meeting horse-drawn vehicles driven by women and children.

"THEREFORE, Be it resolved, that the Wisconsin State Automobile association does hereby, declare itself in favor of the strict observance by all automobilists of all provisions of law relating to automobiles.

"Be it further resolved, that all reckless, negligent, inconsiderate and careless driving of automobiles, and all violations of the automobile law be condemned, and that every automobile club throughout the state be requested to exert every possible influence to prevent reckless, negligent and inconsiderate driving of automobiles upon the highways of this state.

"Be it further resolved, that every automobile club in this state be requested to arrange with their respective local city, county and township authorities for the appointment of some members of their respective organizations as special deputies to assist such local authorities in the prosecution of all violations of the automobile laws.

"Be it further resolved, that this association does create and maintain a special fund for the purpose of investigating complaints of reckless driving of automobiles, particularly in the country; that any person having a grievance against any reckless driver of an automobile be and he hereby is requested to promptly report it to James T. Dought, secretary of the Milwaukee Automobile club.

with full particulars of time, place and circumstances of the alleged offense, so that an investigation may be made at the expense of the association, and the person, if guilty, prosecuted in the manner provided by law.

Expressions of appreciation of the action of the legislature were freely given at the meeting, and those present seemed to feel that it was up to the automobilists of the state of Wisconsin to establish a code of honor and ethics among the automobilists which would result in the ostracism from the automobile fraternity of all those who disregarded the rights of others.

It is certain that an earnest effort will be made in this direction, and personal appeals will be made of every registered owner of an automobile in Wisconsin. Much can be done in this direction, and the earnestness of those in charge of the movement may result in bringing about a condition of affairs which will allay the public prejudice and entirely do away with the demand for severe and restrictive legislation.

Painting Under Difficulties.

A. A. Boussoff is a Russian painter of Arctic scenes. To produce his sketches he was compelled to make toilsome and hazardous journeys, during which he could only use charcoal and pastel. It was not possible, save in the spring, to use oil colors, and even then it was hard to mix them; the paints being frozen. "Some of my sketches," he says, "I painted in the open air, when it was bitterly cold. I had to put on fur gloves to hold the brush and work with rapid and energetic strokes. There were moments when my hands were frozen and refused service, my brush splitting with the cold. Yet I continued, having the ardent desire to fix on the canvas all those fantastic phenomena of the far north, so full of fascinating charm."

"I think one ought to come up and see you a few times before having their dental work done," said a lady patient the other day.

"She meant for them to get used to the office and the dentist in order to get over the condition of dread and fright which many people work themselves into when they think they have to go to the dentist."

This was her second visit to Dr. Richards and she had just had several bad teeth extracted.

She was greatly pleased to find how easy Dr. Richards made it for her. And wondered that she ever could have feared the experience so much. "Didn't hurt you?" said the husband.

"No, not enough to mention," said she.

That's the way it goes every day in Dr. Richards' office. Patients fearful and timid, timidity finally removed, Dental work finished. Patients amazed at the freedom from pain.

Patients thankful and express their gratitude.

CLINTON WAKENS TO LIQUOR TRADE

EMMETT CONROY ALMOST MURDERED IN DRUNKEN ROW.

MAY DIE FROM THE BLOWS

His Assailant Is Locked Up—Citizens Aroused by the Trouble—Will Investigate Liquor Trade.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Clinton, Wis., April 29.—Emmett Conroy, a young man aged twenty-four, was brutally beaten with a club on Saturday in a drunken row by an alleged assailant named Batter. Young Conroy lies in a dangerous condition at the hotel while his assailant is locked up pending the result of his injuries. The affair has stirred the little village to a fever pitch on the liquor question and a rigid investigation of the possible places where the liquor drank was purchased is being made.

Drunken Row
As far as can be learned young Conroy, who was recently declared bankrupt and a spendthrift by Judge Sale, and a guardian appointed to care for his property, and a companion named Batter, a blacksmith, obtained a bottle of whisky and went back of the oil house to drink it. They were beaten about the head and body with a club, his assailant being alleged to have been Batter. The young man's skull is fractured and it is probable he will be removed to the hospital at Janesville tonight.

Are Investigating
Meanwhile the citizens are thoroughly aroused over the affair and thorough probing of the sale of liquor by the three drugstores has been made. It was found by their books that one store supplied fifteen bottles of liquor, another seven and a third four on Saturday. The advocates of temperance are advocating that radical steps be taken and it is possible the state law will be invoked in the matter, so bitter is the feeling.

Trouble Brewing
The anti-liquor people were beaten at the recent spring election and the village voted for license by a majority of forty-one. The anti-liquor people are indignant over the manner and means used to compass their defeat. They claim that city method of colonization were used by the liquor element and that the forty-one votes represented that element which made their residence in the village only during the election period and ten days before. The present case has brought a climax to the matter and the anti-liquor element will probably mix freely before it is decided.

Ready for Trade
Already the liquor people are ready for their invasion which is to begin July 1. The old Hotel Clinton which has stood vacant for some time, is to be rented to a shopier saloon man who will handle a Janesville beer. The hotel across the street is owned by a Milwaukee brewery and near the depot he other hotel is to handle a La Crosse beverage. It is said that the anti-liquor and the saloon element reached a compromise on the issuing of licenses and secured promises to grant them only to hotels. This means that there will be but three saloons in the village unless a new hotel is started.

Fisher Sent For
District Attorney Fisher was sent for to come and investigate the Conroy affair and also look into the drug store sale of liquor and it is expected that something definite will be done when he arrives. The question of the change of dates of the Home Coming has also caused considerable talk and the question whether the Home Coming will be abandoned or not will be decided tonight at a meeting of the committee. The change of date was said to be due to the installation of the saloons July 1.

The best of securities can not always be turned into cash. There have been times when it was difficult to sell United States bonds. Therefore, it is necessary for a well ordered bank to have at all times an adequate cash reserve.

The National Banking Act places the minimum cash reserve which a country bank like this must hold at 15% of its deposit liabilities. 6% must be in cash and 9% deposited in certain designated national banks in the cities called reserve agents. A United States depository is allowed to deduct its United States deposit in figuring its reserve.

This bank has on hand in cash over 10% of its deposits and its own deposits in banks bring its total cash resources to 26% of the deposit obligations. We believe this percentage to be adequate and safe.

ALL AROUND RUN STAR

Melvin Sheppard Is Now America's Cinder Path Leader.

LIST OF HIS TRACK RECORDS.

Mailing From the Quaker City, Sheppard Has Swept Almost All Before Him, Indoors and Outdoors, When in Good Condition.

WHAT SHEPPARD HAS DONE.

600 yards, outdoors, in 1 minute 11.35 seconds.
600 yards, indoors, in 1 minute 13.35 seconds.
800 yards, outdoors, in 1 minute 53.35 seconds.
800 yards, indoors, in 1 minute 54.45 seconds.
One mile, indoors, in 4 minutes 22 seconds.
Outlasted everybody in the half mile.
Beaten only twice in the mile and was out of condition both times.

Who is the greatest all round runner in America? This question, once a perplexing one, is easily answered since Melvin Sheppard of Philadelphia jumped into the championship class a little over a year ago and has since swept all before him. His work up to date shows him to be absolutely unbeatable at the half mile. He has run the half outdoors in 1 minute 53.35 seconds. Indoors he has run relay races in 1 minute 54.45 seconds and 1 minute 56.45 seconds and has gone the distance from a standing start in 1 minute and 58 seconds. Likewise in the indoor mile he outlasted everybody. Last spring the former Quaker City lad, reeled off mile after mile under 4 minutes and 25 seconds, accomplishing 4 minutes and 22 seconds on at least three occasions.

Outdoors Sheppard has not done so well at the mile simply because he has not entered to that distance. Judging from his indoor work, it is entirely within Sheppard's limit to break Conniff's 4 minutes and 15.35 seconds if he once gets after it.

Recently we have had good examples of Sheppard's ability in the speed races. At the New York A. C. games he set the pace in the 600 yard special and Hillman admitted after running that Sheppard had all but run him off his feet in the first 400 yards. It is fresh in every mind how Sheppard set a new indoor record for the "six hundred" recently. He ran it in 1 minute and 13.35 seconds, about three and one-half yards faster than either Taylor or Parsons, the erstwhile record holders. Sheppard made a try for the 600 yard outdoor record of 1 minute and 11 seconds last fall and missed it by just three-fifths of a second.

Give the Quaker a big track to stretch out on and he will do 50 seconds for a quarter mile. At the eastern indoor meets this winter but one man has bested him in a fair race at this distance, and that man was Hillman.

Sheppard is a flier at longer distances too. He has run two miles well under 10 minutes and was a member of the victorious I. A. A. C. cross country team last fall.

Unlike many fast runners, Sheppard is not especially graceful in his style of action. See him in one of his record races and one is impressed by two things—the deep chest and great bounding power. He does not stride out, but seems to bound along. He runs with his head erect and perfectly still, chest thrown way out, and seems to bound along over the ground with no effort at throwing his legs forward like an ordinary runner. His striding power seems to come from "spring" rather than from "reach."

Shep is not a big man. He looks to be five feet nine inches in height—maybe a shade over that. One of the most remarkable parts of his makeup are his legs. Strong, muscular and thick set, they are in exact contrast to the motive power agents of most champion runners.

COLLEGE TRACK TEAMS.

Outlook at Cornell, Yale, Harvard, Penn and Princeton.

The college sport in which there is now the greatest activity is track and field athletics, and many big universities are already striving with might and main to develop a team which will be able to win the intercollegiate championship at Cambridge, Mass., May 31 and June 1.

The track coaches are confronted with the same problem as were the football coaches in the fall. They must develop their 1907 teams without the aid of their freshmen material. Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Brown, Princeton, Cornell and Syracuse have all amended their eligibility codes to prevent the competition of freshmen and first-year students, and in order that other universities should be subject to the same rules the association has adopted the regulation for itself.

The Cornell champions of 1906 start the season with the brightest prospects. Of the team which scored 33 points the Ithacans retain all but three men, who scored but 9 points. This leaves Cornell with a bunch of veterans who scored 29 points, and Trainer Moakley is counting on them for as many more points this spring. The veterans lost are Carpenter, the winner of the half mile; Phillips, who scored a point in the pole vault; and Simpson, who was third in the mile run.

At this stage it looks as though the University of Pennsylvania would give Cornell the hardest fight, as was the case a year ago. The Quakers, who scored 23 points in 1906, retain all of their winners. These are Cartmell and Captain Witham, who were first and second in both the 100 and 200 yard dashes; Huskins, the winner of the mile, and Moffett, who tied for second place in the high jump. But the Quakers have more than their 1906 point winners on whom to count. Chief of these is J. B. Taylor, who won the quarter mile for them in 1904, setting up the present intercollegiate record of 49.15 seconds. This is Taylor's first competition since then, and Mike Murphy expects him to beat Rogers of Cornell and lower his own record.

The Harvard team has been hit hard. The crimson loses four veterans, who scored 7 of their 21 points. These are Dives, who was second in the quarter; Clark, who tied for second in the high jump, and Ford and Cobb, who were fourth in the 100 yards and the half mile. This leaves Harvard with the following veterans: Stephenson, the winner of the shot put; Roosevelt, who tied for second in the high jump; Grant, who tied for the first in the pole vault; Dodge, who was third in the 220 yard dash, and Captain Minot, who was fourth in the mile run.

Yale has lost the same number of points as Harvard, but the Elis' condition is made worse, since they had fewer points with which to start and very poor substitute material. The men Yale loses are: Sheffield, second in the broad jump; Shovin, third in the hammer throw; Robison and Hall, fourth in the 100 yard and the two mile events. This leaves Yale with the following point winners: Knox, first in the broad jump; Marshall, first in the high jump, and Gilbert, who tied for third in the pole vault.

Like Pennsylvania, Yale will make up most of her losses by the eligibility of men who she could not use—or, at least, not to advantage—a year ago. In this class is Parsons, who holds the intercollegiate half mile record of 1 minute 56 seconds.

Princeton had very few point winners to lose, the tigers scoring but five points in the meet. Of the 1906 point winners Princeton loses but one man, this being Moore, who tied for third in the pole vault. The tigers still have Captain Armstrong, who was fourth in the low hurdles; Gamble, third in the 100 yard dash, and Simons, fourth in the broad jump. In addition, Princeton will have the services of Rulon-Miller, who was fourth in the 100 yards in 1904 and second in 1905, but who did not compete in 1906.

There were two smaller colleges which scored more points than Princeton last year. These were Colgate and Amherst. Both were one man teams. Colgate scored 8 points with Castleman, who won the low hurdles and was second over the high sticks.

There is certain to be a closer fight for the championship this year than there was in 1906. Although Cornell has the best nucleus of veterans, it is not likely that the Ithacans will have a similar runaway match this year.

BASEBALL TOPICS.

Connie Mack Doesn't Want Nolsy Coaching—Topsy Hartzel.

Topsy Hartzel, of the Philadelphia Athletics, is one of the greatest outfielders in the game. As a litter base runner and fielder he always "delivers the goods."

Hartzel was born at Polk, O. He has made his home in Philadelphia for a considerable period.

He made his professional debut with the Burlington (Ia.) club in 1897. In 1898 he had the record of playing with four clubs—namely, Montgomery, Salem, Grand Rapids and Louisville. He started the 1899 season with Louisville and finished with Indianapolis. In 1900 he was purchased from Indianapolis by the Cincinnati club of the National league and finished the season with the latter. In 1901 he was transferred to the Chicago National club, and that season developed into such a star that the Athletic club of the American league in the mid of 1901-02 captured him. He has kept up his great Chicago form with the Athletics, being an important individual factor in the pennant captures of 1902 and 1903, and is regarded as a fixture on the Athletic team.

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, doesn't believe in noisy coaching. "There is a difference," he says, "between that and lively coaching. Bellowing and monkey shies in the coaching box have the single object of rattling the other team. Lively coaching is the kind that keeps your own men awake and encouraged. Take a loud-mouthed team, and it is only a question of time until the coacher will say or do something that will make a team mate angry at him and cause a wrangle."

"Take two teams that are evenly matched and running closely, and the team that doesn't wrangle or splutter at the other players or the umpire will win the most games. According to the old Baltimore and Cleveland style, you had to kick up a great fuss to win. But those teams, with their strength, would have won twice as many games had they sat still on the bench. The Boston American league team is a quiet one, yet always in the game and winning without making any fuss about it. Kicking at the umpire is played out."

"It is a losing card, a mere waste of time. I know our team is not doing any of it, having had only one man put out of the game this year. Baseball is too fast and occupies all of your time and watchfulness and ability too completely to permit of a useless expenditure of time in finding fault with the umpire or trying to discredit the other side. You can't do these things and keep your mind wholly on your own game, and unless you watch your own play strictly all the time you won't win."

Catcher Helme Peitz has again decided to quit professional baseball for good, and this time it looks as though the decision is final. He will not report to the Louisville club, but will manage and coach for the Tri-city club of Bellevue, Ky. He has secured a large interest in the team, which bids fair to be one of the premier amateur or semi-professional organizations in that section of the country. In the early part of the season Peitz decided to play with Louisville, owing to a cut in his salary. Later he concluded to abide by the cut, but when the Tri-city proposition was put up to him he again switched and gave out the final statement.

Boston writers say that Outfielder Denary Sullivan, the Minneapolis recruit of the Americans, is a prize. They say you won't have to draw a chart to show him what is to be done, and he moves around the outfield faster than any outfielder Boston has had since the days of Pat Dougherty.

President Comiskey of the White Sox believes Eddie McFarland's statement that he will behave this year.

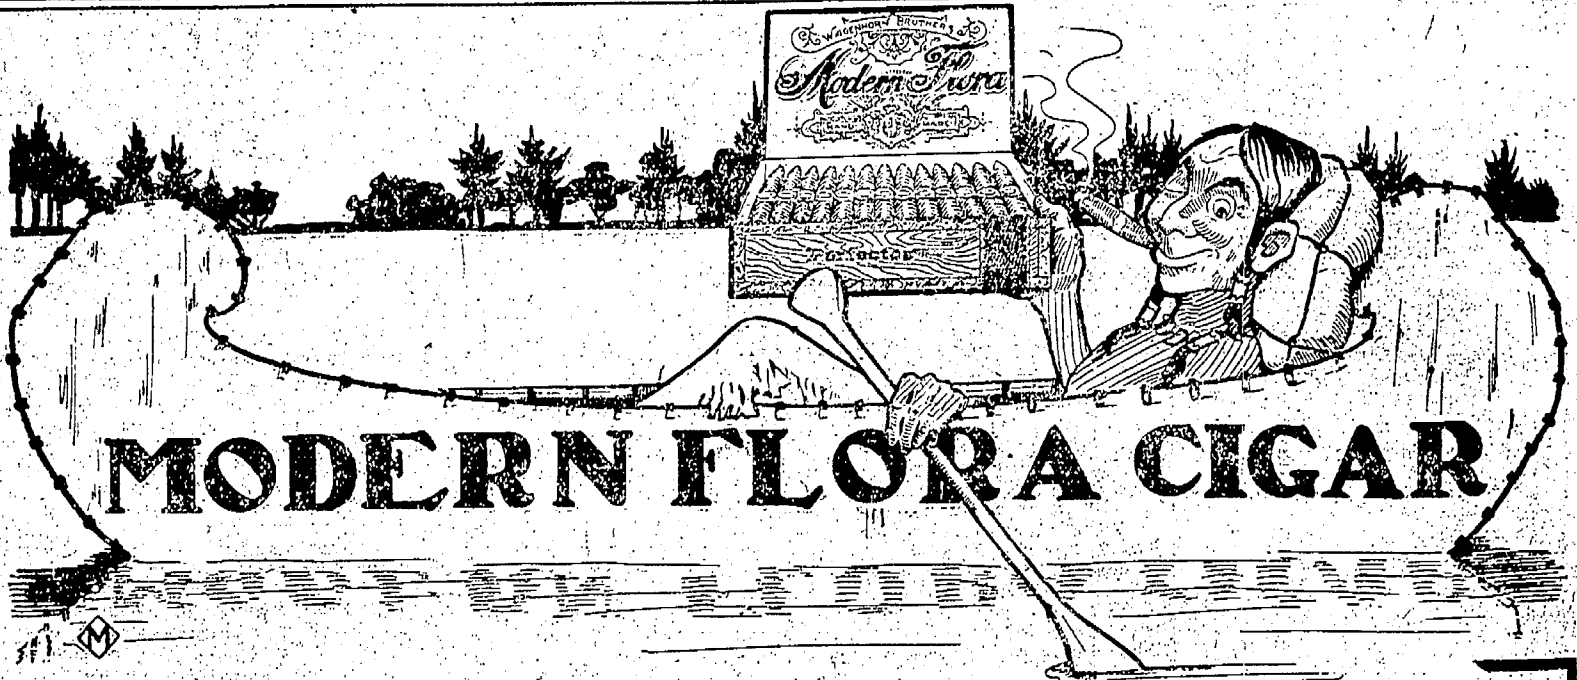

The Washington club has asked for waivers on Infielder Perrine. He is said to be booked for Minneapolis.

The St. Louis American club has transferred Infielder Roy Hartzel, Pitcher Farris and Outfielder Criss to the St. Paul club.

Lajoie promises the greatest novelty ever seen on any diamond. He says that this season Cleveland will play inside ball.

Clare Cooper to Race Again. Clare Cooper, 2:17 1/4, by Combination, has been bought by Ed Allen of Marlboro, Ia., and will be raced by him this year.

TAFT LAYS CORNER STONE FOR Y. M. C. A.

SPEAKS AND HANDLES THE TROWEL AT DAYTON, O.

CIVIC PARADE IS OMITTED

Secretary of War Comments on the Growth of the Spirit of Christian Tolerance in America.

Dayton, O., April 29.—Secretary of War Taft delivered the principal address here Sunday at the laying of the cornerstone of the new building of the Young Men's Christian association. He also handled the trowel as the stone was lowered into its place, and smeared the mortar around like a master mason.

The secretary, in company with his brother, Charles E. Taft, left Cincinnati early Sunday and arrived here at noon. His friends had planned a parade of civic societies, before the laying of the corner stone, but by the wish of the secretary, this was dispensed with. The members of a local committee who greeted him at the depot escorted him to the Algonquin hotel, where luncheon was served. At his conclusion the secretary, still in charge of the committee, went across the street to the association building, where the exercises took place. These consisted of an invocation by Rev. H. H. Anderson and addresses by W. H. Thresher, H. A. Wilbur and Rev. W. J. Shuey, of Dayton, besides the speech delivered by the secretary.

New Religious Tolerance.

In the course of his address Mr. Taft said: "The growth of the Young Men's Christian association has been an evidence of, and at the same time, an assistance to the growth of the spirit of Christian tolerance among all denominations. We are all more tolerant to-day than formerly. I never was so fully conscious of this fact as when the question arose which has become intensely acute in the Philippine islands in regard to the continued ownership of a large body of agricultural lands by certain religious orders of the Roman Catholic church. By circumstances not really connected with religion at all, but growing out of political conditions, the Catholic people of the island had been aroused to bitter hostility against ownership of these lands by the religious orders, and with the restoration of peace and the resort to the courts (to which the orders would have been entitled for the collection of rents or the eviction of 60,000 tenants, the prospect of a new insurrection was immediate, and the solution which offered itself was that the government should buy these lands from the friars and then, sell them on easy terms to the present tenants."

Good Sense Prevailed.

In order to bring this about, however, it was necessary to secure the consent of the head of the Roman Catholic church, and it was thought wise, therefore, to send a representative to Rome to confer with Leo XIII. upon this question. In order, it is possible, to bring about a friendly and amicable solution. But it was seriously objected that the Protestant denominations of the country would resent deeply the establishment even temporarily of what seemed to be diplomatic relations with a church.

Finally the president, after consulting the representatives of the leading Protestant denominations, counted upon the good sense and the religious tolerance of the people of the United States and concluded to follow the ordinary business principle that when one wishes to accomplish a result he should deal directly with the person having the power effectually to agree upon the result desired, and a representative was sent. The business, after much negotiation both at Rome and Manila, was finally concluded, and no persons were more considerate of the difficulties presented and sym-metically with the policy adopted to meet them by the president than the Protestant denominations whose opposition had been feared.

"I venture to think that 50 years ago such a result would not have followed, and that the motives of the government and of the president would have been misunderstood or misconstrued. I regard that as one striking instance of the greater brotherhood that now exists between the great Christian denominations—a brotherhood that finds no more eloquent proof than in the continued prosperity and growth in influence and power of the Young Men's Christian association which dedicates this building to-day."

Dangerous Fire in Colon. Colon, April 29.—Early Sunday morning fire broke out close to the Panama government's costly public buildings which are nearing completion, and destroyed the Wesleyan schoolhouse. A fresh breeze was blowing and only the timely arrival of the Cristobal brigade saved the entire portion of the city south of Sixth street from being burned.

New Railway Bridge Falls. Bedford City, Va., April 29.—About 100 feet of arch of the new concrete bridge over Little Otter river at Lowry, Va., gave way Saturday and fell in the stream below, carrying with it many hundred tons of earth and completely damming the stream. The loss is variously estimated at from a quarter to a half million of dollars, besides the delay in completing the road.

STREET CAR MEN STRIKE

SERVICE IN SALT LAKE CITY ENTIRELY ABANDONED.

Non-Union Crews Egged and Driven from Cars by Sympathizers of the Strikers.

Salt Lake City, April 29.—A strike was declared on the street car lines of the Utah Light & Railway company Sunday, 450 men walking out. Numerous scenes of disorder followed attempts made by the company to operate a few cars with non-union crews and all efforts to maintain even a partial service were soon abandoned.

Determination to strike was reached by the men shortly before four o'clock Sunday morning. The vote in favor of a strike was unanimous, over 300 who were present of the 450 motor-men and conductors, casting their vote. The calling of the strike was a complete surprise, as announcement had been made that arbitration had been agreed to by both sides. This followed several conferences between Mayor Thompson on Friday carried to citizens on the one side, and President Bancroft of the company on the other. Mayor Thompson on Friday carried to the men assurances that Mr. Bancroft had agreed to arbitrate the wage question now and other matters later. This was satisfactory to the men. But Saturday Mr. Bancroft denied that he had agreed to arbitrate anything but the wage scale. This announcement caused the strike.

The scenes of disorder that marked the beginning of the strike took place on Main street, between Brigham and Second South streets. The leaders of the demonstrations were strike sympathizers. The strikers themselves took no part in the disturbance. Eggs were thrown by dozens. The strike sympathizers also cut trolley ropes and in some instances dragged the non-union motor men off the cars.

An end was put to the disturbances when a car marked "U. S. mail" was brought into action, and towed the other cars back to the barns. No attempt was made to molest the mail car.

TRAIN DITCHED IN INDIANA.

Man Going to See Wreck Killed in Automobile Accident.

Portland, Ind., April 29.—Train No. 7 on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad was wrecked at Collett, four miles south of here, Sunday and about a dozen passengers were injured. Only two were seriously hurt. A truck under the tender of the engine collapsed throwing the train into the ditch.

While going to the scene of the wreck in an automobile Frank Kenworthy and a party of four of Winchester, Ind., ran into a fence and were thrown out. Kenworthy landed against a telegraph pole and his neck was broken. He died a few minutes later. George Edwards, another of the automobile party, was seriously hurt.

STROMBOLI AGAIN ACTIVE.

Violent Eruption of the Volcano Terrifies the Peasants.

Catania, Sicily, April 29.—The royal observatory on Mount Etna registers an extraordinary eruption of the volcano on the island of Stromboli. The volcano is throwing out large quantities of ashes and cinders, which are damaging vineyards in both Sicily and Calabria.

Messina, April 29.—The Stromboli volcano is again in active eruption. An explosion so strong that the concussion broke a window here was felt Sunday. The peasants were terrified. The extent of the eruption is not known here, as the cable line to the Lipari islands is interrupted. The only news received at Messina has been by means of signals.

Campaign Riots in Ecuador.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, April 29.—The campaign for the congressional elections, which begin May 5, is resulting in almost daily collisions between partisans of the government and the independent liberals. A serious fight has taken place at Quito, where a group of independents, attacked the Altistas, or followers of President Alfaro, several persons being killed and many wounded.

Illegal to Fish and Sleep. The Pennsylvania superior court has decided that it is illegal to fish with umbrella ribs and sleigh bells, reversing a decision by Judge Endlich, of the Berks court. The case has been watched by fishermen all over the state.

Some months ago Henry J. Humma and Harry Kinney were discharged by Justice of the Peace Prutzman, of Birdsboro, from arrest on the charge of illegal fishing brought by Fish Warden Nesley, of Pottstown. An appeal was taken to the Berks court, which upheld the magistrate. The commonwealth then appealed to the superior court.

The defendants used umbrella ribs attached to, which were sleigh bells which rang when they had a bite. In this way they were able to decoy while fishing. The superior court insists decision declares the device to be illegal.

A MAKER OF HISTORY

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM,

Copyright, 1905, 1906, by LITTLE, BROWN, and COMPANY.

CHAPTER III.

"MADEMOISELLE" said the young man, with an air of somewhat weary politeness. "I regret to say that there is nothing more to be done."

He was greeted and polite because mademoiselle was beautiful and in trouble. For the rest, he was a little tired of her. Brothers of twenty-one who have never been in Paris before and cannot speak the language must occasionally get lost, and the British embassy was not exactly a transported Scotland Yard.

"Then," she declared, with a vigorous little stamp of her shapely foot. "I don't see what we keep an ambassador here for at all or any of you. It is scandalous!"

The Hon. Nigel Fergusson dropped his eyeglasses and surveyed the young lady attentively.

"My dear Miss Poynton," he said, "I will not presume to argue with you. We are here, I suppose, for some purpose or other. Whether we fulfill it or not may well be a matter of opinion. But that purpose is certainly not to look after any young idiot—you must excuse my speaking plainly—who runs amok in this most fascinating city. In your case the chief has gone out of his way to help you. He has interviewed the chief of the police himself, brought his influence to bear in various quarters, and I can tell you conscientiously that everything which possibly can be done is being done at the present moment. If you wish for my advice it is this: Send for some friend to keep you company here and try to be patient. You are in all probability making yourself needlessly miserable."

She looked at him a little reproachfully. He noticed, however, with secret joy that she was drawing on her gloves.

"Patient! He was to meet me here ten days ago. He arrived at the hotel. His clothes are all there and his bill unpaid. He went out the night of his arrival and has never returned. Patient! Well, I am much obliged to you, Mr. Fergusson. I have no doubt that you have done all that your duty required. Good afternoon!"

"Good afternoon, Miss Poynton, and don't be too despondent. Remember that the French police are the cleverest in the world, and they are working for you!"

She looked up at him scornfully.

"Police, indeed!" she answered. "Do you know that all they have done so far is to keep sending for me to go and look at dead bodies down at the morgue? I think that I shall send over for an English detective."

"You might do worse," he answered, "but in any case, Miss Poynton, I do hope that you will send over for some friend or relation to keep you company. Paris is scarcely a fit place for you to be alone and in trouble."

"Thank you," she said. "I will remember what you have said."

The young man watched her depart with a curious mixture of relief and regret.

"The young fool's been the usual round, I suppose, and he's either too much ashamed of himself or too bothered to turn up. I wish she wasn't quite so devilish good looking," he remarked to himself. "If she goes about alone she'll get badly scared before she's finished."

Phyllis Poynton drove straight back to her hotel and went to her room. A sympathetic chambermaid followed her in.

"Mademoiselle has news yet of her brother?" she inquired.

Mademoiselle shook her head. Indeed her face was sufficient answer.

"None at all, Madam."

The chambermaid closed the door.

"It would help mademoiselle perhaps if she knew where the young gentleman spent the evening before he disappeared?" she inquired mysteriously.

"Of course. That is just what I want to find out."

Marie smiled.

"There is a young man here in the barber's shop, mademoiselle," she announced. "He remembers M. Poynton quite well. He went in there to be shaved, and he asked some questions. I think if mademoiselle were to see him."

The girl jumped up at once.

"Do you know his name?" she asked.

"M. Alphonse, they call him. He is on duty now."

Phyllis Poynton descended at once to the ground floor of the hotel and pushed open the glass door which led into the coffee-shop. M. Alphonse was waiting upon a customer, and she was given a chair. In a few minutes he descended the spiral iron staircase and desired to know mademoiselle's pleasure.

"You speak English?" she asked.

"But certainly, mademoiselle."

She gave a little sigh of relief.

"I wonder," she said, "if you remember waiting upon my brother last Thursday week. He was tall and fair and something like me. He had just arrived in Paris."

M. Alphonse smiled. He rarely forgot a face, and the young Englishman's tip had been munificent.

"Perfectly, mademoiselle," he answered. "They sent for me because monsieur spoke no French."

"My chambermaid Marie told me that you might perhaps know how he proposed to spend the evening," she continued. "He was quite a stranger in Paris, and he may have asked for some information."

M. Alphonse smiled and extended his hands.

"It is quite true," he answered. "He asked me where to go, and I said to the Folies Bergeres. Then he said he had heard a good deal of the supper cafes, and he asked me which was the most amusing. I told him the Cafe Montmartre. He wrote it down."

"Do you think that he meant to go there?" she asked.

"But certainly. He promised to come and tell me the next day how he amused himself."

"The Cafe Montmartre. Where is it?" she asked.

"In the Place de Montmartre. But mademoiselle pardons—she will understand that it is a place for men?"

"Are women not admitted?" she asked.

Alphonse smiled.

"But—yes. Only mademoiselle understands that if a lady should go there she would need to be very well escorted."

She rose and slipped a coin into his hand.

"I am very much obliged to you," she said. "By the bye, have any other people made inquiries of you concerning my brother?"

"No one at all, mademoiselle," the man answered.

She almost slammed the door behind when she went out.

"And they say that the French police are the cleverest in the world," she exclaimed indignantly.

M. Alphonse watched her through the glass pane.

"Ciel! But she is pretty!" he murmured to himself.

She turned into the waiting room, and, taking off her gloves, she wrote a letter. Her pretty fingers were innocent of rings, and her handwriting

ARBUCKLES' ARIOSA COFFEE

"For over thirty years," writes a gentleman in Los Angeles, "I have used Arbuckles' Coffee. Many times my family has tried other coffee only to come back to our old reliable, unchangeable Arbuckles'. No other coffee has this uniform never failing aroma, I care not at what price. I have often wished I could tell you this." Many other people have the same opinion. Arbuckles' was the first roasted packaged coffee, and its sales exceed all other brands.

That it costs you less is due simply to our coffee business being so much greater than any competitors, in fact it is larger than the next four largest firms in the world combined. We naturally can and actually do give better coffee in ARIOSA than anyone else can give for the price. Being the standard made it is sold at the narrowest margin of profit.

Some grocers will try to sell you instead loose coffee which the roaster is ashamed to sell in a package bearing his name.

Don't take it, neither the looks nor the price indicate its cup quality. No matter where you buy Arbuckles' ARIOSA, or what you pay for it, it's the same old uniform Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee.

If your grocer will not supply, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.

clothes and sat down to wait for him. He did not return. I made inquiries and found that he had left the hotel at 8 o'clock the previous evening. To cut the matter short, ten days have now elapsed, and he has not yet returned.

I have been to the embassy, to the police and to the morgue. Nowhere have I found the slightest trace of him. No one seems to take the least interest in his disappearance. The police shrug their shoulders and look at me as though I ought to understand—he will return very shortly, they are quite sure. At the embassy they have begun to look upon me as a nuisance. The morgue has even sent that I may one day forget the horror of my hasty visits there. I have come to the conclusion, Andrew, that I must search for him myself. How, I do not know; where, I do not know. But I shall not leave Paris until I have found him. Andrew, what I want is a friend here. A few months ago I should not have hesitated a moment to ask you to come to me. Today that is impossible. Your presence here would only be an embarrassment to both of us. Do you know of any one who would come? I have not a single relative whom I can ask to help me. Would you advise me to write to Scotland Yard for a detective or go to one of these agencies? If not, can you think of any one who would come here and help me, either for your sake or as your friend, or better still, a detective who can speak French and whom one can trust? All our lives Guy and I have congratulated ourselves that we have no relation nearer than London. I am finding out the other side of it now.

I know that you will do what you can for me, Andrew. Write to me by return. Yours, in great trouble and distress, PHYLIS POYNTON.
